COMMUNITY BIBLE STUDY

HOW TO START A CLASS

The study of God's Word transforms lives and impacts communities for Christ. Community Bible Study (CBS) can help bring in-depth Bible study to your community through connections with our North American Ambassadors and Impact Group process.

The first step in starting a new CBS class is to gather people from various churches, backgrounds, and ages who are passionate about the study of God's Word. When there are enough committed people, Impact Group meetings begin.

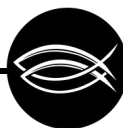

The Impact Group meetings focus on seeking God's will for a class through prayer, Bible study, and learning about CBS principles. The core values of our ministry are highlighted in the first five meetings, and an Ambassador provides weekly support and direction for the Impact Group participants. The goal of these meetings is to develop the vision and leadership necessary to establish strong, sustainable classes.

As the group grows and develops potential leaders, a CBS Area Director leads the group through a study of the Book of Nehemiah. God's called leaders are identified, complete CBS Leadership Training, and start the new class.
